EL PASO HERALD Editorial and Magazine Page

Tuesday, June Seventeenth, 1913,

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR OF PUBLICATION Superior exclusive features and complete news report by Associated Press Leased Wire and 200 Special Correspondents covering Arizona, New Mexico, west Texas, Mexico, Wash-

200 Special Correspondents covering Arizona, New Mexico, west Texas, Mexico, Washington, D. C., and New York.
blished by Herald News Co., Inc.; H. D. Slater (owner of two-thirds interest) President; J. C. Wilmarth (owner of one-fifth interest) Manager; the remaining one-eighth interest is owned among 12 stockholders who are as follows; H. L. Capell, H. B.
Stevens, J. A. Smith, J. J. Mundy, Walers Davis, H. A. True, McGlennon estate, W. F. Payne, R. C. Canby, G. A. Martin, A. L. Sharpe, and John P. Ramsey.

The Deadly Wooden Car

NOTHER fearful "accident" due to the wooden car. Six deaths, with serious injuries to 16 more, resulted from the crashing of a train on the New Haven road into the rear end of another train. The collision took place at 5 oclock in the afternoon. The president of the road blames the engineer of the second train, and the engineer says the signal set against him was only 300 feet from the standing train, and the airbrakes failed to stop the train in time. The railroad officials say he had 3900 feet in which to stop if he had been watching signals.

The second train amashed into the rear car of the first train which was standing. That car was a pullman chair car or parlor car, made of wood, with 25 persons aboard. The locomotive cleft it like a wedge. The roof rose, the sides flew apart. The Iscomotive crashed into the interior of the car, crushing and jamming its occupants, until clear back to the engineer's cab it was buried in the wreck of the parlor car. Most of the killed and hurt were in that pullman. Neither the engineer nor fireman of the train that did the wrecking was scratched, although they stuck to

The day of the wooden passenger car is, or ought to be, past forever. The wooden cars have been tolerated 20 years too long already. There never has been a time when the congress of the United States might not have inaugurated a policy of gradual replacement, which would not have burdened the roads and which would have resulted in saving hundreds of human lives.

Any firstclass and solvent road which continues wooden cars in passenger service is showing a criminal disregard of the safety of patrons.

A correspondent writes to ask the address of "governor Seltzer." Try any mode fountain.

Alfalfa is making the El Paso farmers a good profit on their money, but wait until we begin raising fruits and garden truck here in quantities, then watch the bank accounts grow.

Americans Modify Great-British Game

NOW IT'S POLO back east. The international match has revived interest greatly. Polo is not a game for rich men only. It is everybody's game who can ride a horse and look out for himself in a tight place. It would seem as if pole would be the most popular game in the west, where everybody rides, and where all the cow ponies are of the very sort to be trained to polo most easily.

The United States adopted polo from England, and England first had it from India. But the American players have made so many important improvements on the game that England has conformed her rules to ours. The American game is more open than the English-a direct contrast to the situation in football between the American game and Rugby.

In England, polo is chiefly an army game, but in this country it has been developed by civilians. The army is taking it up but slowly.

Even a "sworn statement" of circulation is not enough-every advertiser should learn how to investigate a newspaper's circulation in detail so as to make sure exactly what he is buying. Too many advertisers buy advertising space on faith. That won't do. The advertiser ought to know. He has a right to know as much as the publisher himself knows, about the circulation of any newspaper with which he does business. If the business office or the advertising manager or solicitor refuses definite and detailed information, put it down at once that you are talking to a crook who is working for a cheat. No man of honor would work for a concern that forced him to lie to get business.

Courtney is still coach for the Cornell crew. He was one of the heroes of the men of today when they were boys.

As long as we cannot have a fair of our own, the next best advertisement for El Paso will be the big automobile road race to the Arizona state fair this fall.

Model Schoolhouses By Mail

MODEL schoolhouse, of one, two, or four rooms will be sent by parcel post to any rural school official asking the United States bureau of education for one. The model is made of pasteboard, and any carpenter can erect a schoolhouse from this model without further instructions. The schoolhouse has all modern improvements, including uptodate sanitary equipment.

It is expected that the new service will be of great benefit to rural communities desiring to have the very best but not knowing how to go about making plans, or not having the money to employ architects.

Lord Rosebery said: "After a short tenure of high office, the holder almost invariably thinks himself admirably fitted for it."

A law, rigidly enforced, requiring every householder to provide a hand chemical fire extinguisher in his home, would be a mighty good thing, saving life and property, reducing fire loss, and reducing cost of fire departments.

Traction engines have cut the asphalt all to pieces in front of a local hardware warehouse. The city should without delay enact an ordinance preventing these machines from traversing the paved streets. Their sharp ribs on the broad treads of the wheels cut the asphalt pavements like the ax and pick. The damage done in the instance referred to will be almost impossible to repair, but it will seriously shorten the life of the pavement.

More Sound Optimism

J. HILL has given the world another luminous phrase that will live long after J. J. is dead. Says the veteran railronder: "The man who sells the United States short is going to suffer for it."

He points out that the United States will derive $10,000,000,000 of new wealth out of the ground this year, a sum that exceeds the world's gold production for ten years.

"Keep a clear head and avoid getting rattled," is his advice.

Mayor Gaynor says the men who criticise him have neither length, breadth, nor thickness. He doesn't see why he should be afraid of a mathematical point. But in a city which spends $150,000,000 a year, even mathematical points are of some importance to taxpayers.

Illinois has granted women the privilege of suffrage, by vote of the legislature. That makes ten, with 38 to go.

One-Sentence Philosophy

GLOBE SIGHTS.

How a convicted man must hate law-campaign Issue usually gets over he knows much about sin. poor and dewntroden citizen feels would enjoy worrying over the in-Doubtless the editor who tells the ters how to care for their valuable tements neglects to cover his type-Robinson: "Say what you will of this poor creature, me, but I have never referred to myself as a war-

Ab Adkins says he can't see why his hired girl quit, as they always treated her as one of the family. That may be

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

leave to the good and use a cleaver You can't play truant in the school of

Bachelor girls are spinsters who are Anyway, a woman would rather have old feet than large ones.
It is easier to deceive a girl than it is to fool her father's building.
It takes a norn diplomat to appear interested in other people's troubles.

QUARER MEDITATIONS.

(Philadelphia Bocord.)
Poverty is no disgrace, but wealth an't always may as much.
Even when a man has a pull he some-

"But tell me, John, are you quite sure that Bent is as impossible as you say," she asked Kently. "I think he is one of the most pleasant and the smartest young fellows I ever met."

Halvor shrugged his shoulders.

I have heard a lot about the infallible "intuition of women," he said. "That fellow did not even have the courage to answer me when I surprised him sitting with Olga yesterday. He just stammered something and looked at me like a sheep. The man is a fool. But he is able to fill just as good a position as you had at his age."

"I will just remind you that I was with Oftels even then, and he is merely working for Hanson & Co., a firm of no standing."

The Successor

A Short Story.

PONT understand what you have

John Sanders turned towards his

"I have told you at least a hundred

Mrs. Sanders was about to give an

"But tell me, John, are you quite angry reply, but she controled her-times, Margaret, that I do not want a against him, John,

wire and said angrily:

fool as my soninlaw."

o standing."
"Well, I believe in Bent anyway. and no matter what you say, Olga intends to marry him as soon as he is premoted."

omoted! She will have to wait for "Promoted She will have to wait for a long time in that case. At any rate I insist that Bent Birk is no husband for my daughter, and she wont get a penny from me.

He went out siamming the door behind him. Soon afterwards Olga came into the parior where her mother was tring alone.

"I have important news, mother," he said, "Bent has just told me that ir. Boland died an hour ago from cart failure."
Mrs. Sanders turned quite pale woth citement.
"Mr. Boland dead! ...she exclaimed.
suppose you know what that means your father."
"Mr. Boland and father were never
"Mr. Boland and father were never

"Mr. Holand and father were never very friendly," said Olga, "But I sup-pose that even so father will now be-promoted to his position as general manager of the works."

"Why, of course," her mother ex-claimed "The firm could not do other-wise after his many years of faithful gravice. But how did Bent hear about

He had just met George Oftel." "The old man's second son?"
"Yes and his favorite too. He and ent are great chums and he says it and are great chains and he says it a all due to Bent's coaching that he assed into his examination at the olytechnical college. So you see ent is not such a foel as father "I know he is not, but he seems to se his wits entirely, whenever father in the room." "He says the presence of father con-"He says the presence of father contuses him somehow and makes him wkward and self-conscious because he knows father dislikes him."

"Well let us go down and fell father he news, it will please him."

John Sanders was in his most genial nood at breakfast next day.
"I am no hypocrite." he said, "Boand never treated me half decently, lecause he was afraid of ma. He felt hat he was growing too old and that his position required a younger and more energetic man."
"I suppose we will soon know who ore energetic man."

"I suppose we will soon know who to take his place." said Olga.
"Yes it ought to be settled in a day two. Business is business and we ew days we shall have plenty of coner for things, for wedding gown not roughly too, if you find a suitble husband. But no Bent Birk, I he works.

e days passed and Boland had buried. John Sanders had just med from the funeral and had upstairs to change his clothes. ig at the cozy fireplace in the livhere was a knock at the door and at entered nervously and asked for ir. Saunders.

Olga was quite scared and told him hat her father was upstalrs.
"But what has happened Bont?"
"I must see him at once. I must ay what I want to say before all of

"Go and call your father Olga," "Go and call your father Chen," said Mrs. Saunders. "Bent, you do look strange. Is there anything wrong."
"Everything is wrong. The whode thing is impossible, but I want him to hear about it from me first."
"I don't understand a word of what you are talking about. Try to get calm before John comes down."
Olga returned followed by her father and Bent went straight up to him. Mr. Sanders." he said. "You are right. I have been a fool. Until new I have always acted like one in your m. Mr. Sanders" he said. "You are gett. I have been a fool. Until now have always acted like one in your escace because I knew you disliked e. Perhaps everything would have en hetter if I had been less salf-contous. I fove Olim, and she loves me, if we intend to marry, but today mething wery strange has happened, mething which is very difficult for e to tell you, though I am in no way blame. Mr. Offel has affered me e position as general manager of s works."

dis works."

John Sanders stood as if he had urned into a stone, his face was ashen and olga burst into tears.

"I do not intend to accept the ofcer, Mr. Sanders for I know Olga vould not like me to do it."

Olga took his hands.

You are right Bent You must not poil father's chances. But you are uite sure father will get the positen if you refuse it."

Bent was silent a moment, then he lon if you refuse it?"

Bent was silent a moment, then he aid: "No Oign. He will not set it if I refuse it will be given to Robert Vest for Mr. Oftel wants a young man nd he thinks Mr. Sanders is too old."

"Too oid." John Sanders dropped ato a chair and hid his face in his wants.

The young people left the room. Irs. Sanders kneeled down at her usband's side and stroked his grey "Robert West," he grouned.

"No, not Robert West, but Bent Kirke, your soninlaw."

John Sanders finds that the John Sanders tinds that the old familiar work suits him very well, and Bent is a very lenient boss, but there is a Bent Junior now, who is not the least but scared of John Sanders, and his grandfather declared that he is the brightest baby ever born.

PLAN LOWER RATE FOR PEONS ON MEXICAN ROADS

Peon labor may be sent over Mexian owned lines at a cheaper rate han the usual third class, commonly used for transporting this class of pasrnment, and makes it possible for th hippers of large numbers of Mexica con laborers to send them to the bar der at Juarez or to other parts of the country at a very chean rate. This is done to encourage the taboring men to seek work and quit revolutions.

LOWER BATES ARE ORDERED ON COTTON BAGS IN TEXAS.

her as one of the family. That may be the answer.

Buckwheat cakes are said to be going out of famion, and it is our dyspeptic deduction that the world is improving in other respects.

A man is handleapped by having to devote considerable time to his whishes kers, either in combing them, or shaving them as be should. But, on the other end of his head, he hasn't a round hale of hair to arrange artistically. Equally is the order of the day.

Buckwheat cakes are said to be going as much. Even when a man has a pull he sometimes has to be pushed.

It doesn't do much good to offer a roward for lost opportunities.

It sometimes requires a buoyant native to keep up appearances.

It is never too late to mend, but it's law as well if you don't have to.

When a man jumps at conclusions the rest of us can generally see his failsh. When a man jumps at conclusions the rest of us can generally see his failsh western lines. The traffic is heavy. Existing ratez were found to be unreasonable and discriminatory and the comes out on top

ABE MARTIN

After a conference this mornin' between Lafe Bud an' his wife th' paperhanger wuz dismissed an' they decided t' live t'gether agin. Money talks an' that's th' reason so many o' us git drowned out o' th' conversation.

14 Years Ago Today From The Herald This Date 1899.

W. G. Walz left this morning for Prof. G. P. Putnam went up to loudcroft today. R. F. Campbell left over the Santa e today for Chicago, Ed Cooley returned from eastern exas this morning, over the T. & P. A concert will be given tomorrow vening by Prof. Concha's orchestra, t the park.

Nums Reymond, Philip Pall and adge Newcomb returned to Las Cruces ils morning. Col. Anson Mills and sister left for

H. P. Noake and wife and W. H. Puttle left this morning to spend Sun-

Mrs. A. Reed left this afternoon over he T. & P. to spend the summer in an Bernardino, Calif.

Master mechanic Herbert of the G. , went to Valentine, Texas, yesterday a business for the road.

There is a larse force of men working at the G. H. washout, but the contions are little changed. ing at the G. R. washout, but the conditions are little changed.

Work on the temporary structure which is to serve as the Mexican Central depot is progressing rapidly.

Dr. Higgins left for St. Louis this morning as a delegate to the Elks convention to be held there next week.

Walter McMurry, the G. H. helper, is still on the sick list and it is thought that he will not be able to work for several days.

The railroad blowout at the Mesagarden Wednesday night was such a success that the bays have concluded to give a harride in the next fon days.

According to Captain Sullivan, of the El Paso basebalt team, the railroad team won't stand a chance in the same Sunday. Murphy and Webber will constitute the battery firm of El Paso.

of Oregon and Boulevard, will be Tuesday afternoon. The Masons lay the stone in accordance with when the city council met last ight, only five aldermen answured, a addition to two reporters and the layor. Those absent were Measure. ector and assessor for the month of hay showing that $3391.62 had been offected. Mr. Badger, chairman of trest improvements recommended hat aldewalks be put in, to lead from ervising architect to complete the city hall left vacant by the death of Churley Maydell. The major told the council about the garbage box which he had received, and asked the aldermen to inspect it. Mr. Whitmore said Harry Charman was setting $50 a month to clean up sarbage.

By GELETT BURGESS

JOANNA MURLEY

(Do YOU Flowkill?) "I wonder who's the Goop," I said, "That's flowkilled all my pansy bed?"

came to me; "I walked across it twice," said she, "I didn't know twas wrong, before. "I won't flowkill them any more!"

Don't Be A Goop!

HE woman who has been taught by necessity to make both a virtue and an art of economy will take what was left from one meal. and make of it an appetizing dish for the next, often a more pleasing dainty than it was one its first appearance. This is an art that adds to the mu-This is an art that adds to the mu-terial prosperity, and that should be extended to include within its scape the ability to warm over odds and ends of past happiness, since presperity is not worth the troubs to achieve, and does not last long, unless happiness

The Warmed Over Joys

Pleasures of the Past Can Be Warmed Over Just Like Food and Enjoyed Agnin.

- By Benirice Fairfax

The Greatest Virtue.

The Greatest Viriue.

It is not enough to make an old garment into a new, nor to turn the residue of yesterday's dinner into a dinner for today; one must be able to make of yesterday's happy events food for present memories today. That is the greatest of all economic viriues, and the one we most need.

I once knew a woman who could recall an event of 20, 20 or 40 years before, and laugh heartilly over the memory. She always remembered all the pleasant things that had happened to her, filling her mind so full of insidents to inush about there was no room for the lugubrious. The picules she attended as a girl, and which had been spoiled by rain, were pushed out of mind by those in which the pie was upset in the lemonade, or some one sat in the potato salad, little mishaps that add to the general merriment when one is young. Every mirrheculvulsing incident of her youth retained its mirrheconvulsing powers. If there was no new jey for today she had always yesterday's joys to warm over. always yesterday's Joys to warm

But one must begin," said this wise woman. When one is young, for it is then the sun shines warmest and orightest. Just tell the dear young stris to remember all that is pleasant and forget all that is disagreeable. Fell them to economize on their pleasant memories and throw away all that turis and rankles.

Hard Times Ahead. There are hard times ahead for them, and I don't mean the hard times that affect the pocketbook, for while they are hard they are the easiest of il to bear. I mean times that try ope and faith and courage; the kinds f trouble that come to the rich and be poor alike, and that pass on leavig bereft and broken bearied women i their trail.

"It is then they should be able to arm to their mental storehouses and Tit is then they should be able to urn to their mental storehouses and find a lot of happy memories stored there to be brought out and used to sweeten today's krief. But they must store them away! They won't find anything in memory to smile about if they employ the present in storing away odds and ends of resentment hitterness and disappointment. We only find what we put away, and I put have the best of every day's happen-Get the habit, girls! It is the supremest of all the arts of economy. John Wesley

By GEORGE FITCH. Author of "At Good Old Siwanh," HIS is the birthday of John Wes-I ley, who is practically unknown in political circles but whose university is celebrated with great reverence by millions of Methodists who are following his recipe for saint-making with great Success. 1703. He went to Oxford, and after a notable athletic and social career became a deacon and settled down to a life of corneratone of the Mt. Sinal endowed piety in the English church.

tion was one day turned towards religion. He then began to study theology and to analyze his soul with great diligence, and in order to perfect himself for his future work he returned to Oxford and lived on $140 a year. In 1835 he came to Georgia to convert the indians, but found more promising material among the English at Savannah and organized a church which he called the Methodist church. His health failing, he returned to London where he preached and prayed and on the 24th of May, 1738, at a quarter before 9 in the evening, was converted after the modern

"He came to convert the indians but found more promising material among Methodist manner and went forth to preach in the fields and streets. From this time Wesley's eloquence was irresistible and he converted massmeetings, not even usurers and politicians escaping. His church grew rapidly in spite of great opposition. Wesley faced mobs all his life and learned to look at a scenning multitude, armed with bricks, in the eves with more calmness than the modern candidate can face three voters armed with a request for an appointment.

Wesley lived to a great old age, and before he died in 1871, he bequeathed the Methodist church to the membership be appointing 100 pastors to look after its affairs.

John Wesley was greatly beloved and is still glorified. But some attention should be paid to his patient father, Samuel, who brought up nearly a score of children on a rector's salary so carefully that three of them became famous ministers and hymnwriters and none of them smoked cigarets.-(Copyrighted by George Matthew Adams).

BRYAN SIGNS ARBITRATION TREATY WITH NORWAY,

Washington, D. C., June 1s.-Secretary Bryan and Norwegian minister Bryn today signed a treaty extending for another ferm of five years the spiral arbitration ireaty between the United States and Norway, which will expire by limitation on June 24. This makes 15 such treaties now before the showed that the industrial work in the private schools for wuman is just right, 1913, by George Matthew Adams. for another term of five years the spec-

Islands Need Skilled Men Schools of the Philippines Have dustrial Training.

-By Frederic J. Haskin-ASHINGTON, D. C., June 17.in the Philippines have had very little is common with the public schools until recently. In fact, they have been antagonistic to the cause of free learning for the people. They still are so to a great degree, and doubtless would continue to be but for the growvery little in common with the public Would continue to be but for the grow-

Prior to American occupation all the schools in the islands were private to all intents and purposes. A great many were supposed to be public, but only those persons who could pay got the benefit. The gournest were classical, never practical, in Spanish times not one trafes school, agricultural college or anything of the sort worthly of the name could be found in the entire archipeingo. Even in the courses laught definite standards were not maintained. Early Courses Not Practical.

maintained.

A young man's B. A meant very little in comparison with the same degree in this country. The colleges for men turned out lawyers, advocates and literary lights who could not work, did not want to work, and despised those who did. The schools for girls minered daintily through maidenly maxima, late making and needle work. No school ever had a gymnastum, no educated young man knew the sweet smell of a furrow turned by his own hand, no young woman felt deserved exultation over a home made spick and span by her good day's work.

Need skilled Tradesmen.

What the Philippine islands always have needed, and still need, is skilled farmors, trained, mechanics, small radesmen and the like. They must learn what the rest of the civilized world is absolve assignification—the doc-Need Skilled Tradesmen-

Three years age vice governor gen-ral Newton W. Gilbert, who also is cidedly no. that these private institutions had to be trimmed to the new era. They were no good to the people. They were, in fact, the bulwark of organized opposition to untrammelled schools. He concluded to standardine them and considered it where to gently bring them in line with the government's educational policy than to drive them into a small, compact force of active opposition. The work has been done from his own office under the direction of P. S. O'Reilly, a division superintendent of schools on special duty. Today all the worthy institutions, religious and recular, are in hearty accord with the retary of public Instruction, decided scular, are in hearty accord with the verk and their fert books would shock patent medicine alloance of 1878. Sere boys are sllowed to grope Mere boys are nilowed to grope through college subjects. Four or five years of this brain scrambling is supposed to turn out "Hustrados." They are permitted to pick out their own courses, upon payment of the fees which feed the "professors." Skipping of grades is another recognized privilege of the embryo "Hustrious one." Practical studies, sunitation and allights are unlessed of in these places. lettes are unleard of in these places. They are saturated with reactionary-ism. They turn our conceited, igno-rant pin heads, and will continue to do agent, eathering themsiry, as ranced zoology, colonial history, publinance. In the second and last yellorman and elements of politics are required. The optional studies, two to become are English literature, Froncingonometry and surveying (if more riously taken) advanced physic

Catholic College Is 300 Years Old. he average Philippine institution carning. The first on the list is o carning. The first on the list is of the 180 years old and has graduated the majority of Philippine leaders in religion, politics art and business. Silipman institute is Presbyterian, located at Dumiguate, Oriental Negros, in the Visayan sugar belt. The Liceo de Visayan sugar belt. in Manila which is run wholly by Fill pines. Most of the Catholic college always have been under strong Span ish influences. Assumption college is porhaps the leading girl's school in the B. A. Degree After 13 Years.

Few Industrial Courses. In the colleges for men very little man-ual training is taught and in many nene is required. Sillman institute leads them all in this respect. Manual raining occupies a large place in its curriculum. The equipment is excellent and present plans include extensive agicultural work. A good printing plant has been turning out practical printers for some years. Some of the schools

Advice To the Lovelorn By Bentrice Fairfax.

He Likes You.

Dear Miss Pairfax:

practical instruction, and the determination of the insular government to bring such institutions up to public school standards.

Fig. 1 and 1 a

"All's Fair In Love."

Dear Miss Fairfax:
Is it proper for a young man who has been calling on a girl for all months and confessed his love for her, and she never makes any encouraging remarks of her love for him, to stop calling without any explanation? calling without any explanation? I asked for her love, but all I got was "I'll tell you some other time," for my answer. my answer.
It is the only thing you can do if you are a man of any spirit, and unless you are a man of spirit she will never Stay away a month. I am sure she will send for you, and when you return demand a decisive answer, Propose Marriage.

Dear Mies Fairfax:

I am keeping company with a girl who is 20 years of age and I am 27, and I have known this girl for the pust five years Lately I notice she keeps company with one of my friends.

Do you think that I should give her up? She told me that she loves me.

Walince.

It seems to me that if you have been devoted to her so long and have not asked her to marry you she does right to accept invitations from others.

Make her a proposal of marriage and, if she accepts, this will give you the right of objection.

icarn what the rest of the civilized world is already assimilating—the doctrine of efficiency. The islands have heen among the most backward of all christian nations in this respect. According to the findings of the commissioner of education of the United States the South and Central American rountries have been ahead of the Philippines, the possession of "advanced" the right of objection.

The universities of Uruguay, Chile and the Argentine Republic support modern industrial branches of study and veterinary sciences agronomy and veterinary science which equal those of Cornell and the universities of Michigan, Wisconfin and Pennsylvania, The Cathelic University of Santiago. In Chile, tonches mechanical, electrical and civil engineering.

Private Schools New in Line.

Three years ago vice governor general Newton W. Gilbert, who also is nothered by their own mustiness: where it was 25 years ago. It has At the present time 25 private insti- not been standardized, but doubtless who used to be a member of congress from Indiana. Last year nine were taken into the fold, one for the degree of bachelor of arts, two for high school of bachelor of arts, two for high school of bachelor of arts, two for high school will be learn that girls should be as two for primary certificates. Six others are expected to reach the standard. in justice to the worthy private colling year. Of the schools still unapproved, 28 in number, six or eight are looked upon as sure to get through within a couple of years. There is little hope for the others.

The unapproved schools which are showing very little disposition to meet the requirements of the government are as bad as they ever were. They usually are found in provincial capitals, and some are in the city of Manila litself. They occupy private residences ing, embroidery, etc The growth of English and the In-creasing popularity of athletics has been very encouraging. Thirty-four of the private schools are now giving the entire primary and intermediate courses in English. Nine have extend-ed English to their high school work, and two teach college work as well in English, except as finglish might be one of the studies being treated as a foreign language like French and Ger-islands. Its track team has wen high honors at the Philippine carnival in Manila and its baseball team frequently defeats American aggregations. La Salle, Letran, the Ateneo and the Edeco are in the athletic field to stay. Many of the female schools en in for hasketof the female schools go in for basket-ball and volley ball, but could do much better than they do.

Untholies Care for Orphans. pendent on them. They are housed, fed, clothed and educated without charge. They are taught embroidery along with the regular school studies and are expected to contribute toward their support as soon as possible. In addition to this nearly all of the convents hive free instructions to day scholars who live at home but whose parents cannot pay their tuition. Tomorrow: Industrial Instruction.

Pessimists By Walt Muson

"All things are going to the dogs," the also ran remarks; "the government is alipping eogs; it's run by eranks and sharks. The voters turn down men like me, and elevate cheap skates, so how can aught but ruin be in these United States?" "Our prison system is a fake," the eattle thief complains; "it is a shame that I must break up rock in rusty chains. The whole blamed thing should be reformed; the convict has no rights; give him a cell that's nicely warmed and fixed with tangeten lights." "All things are wrong," says Out-anddown, "on this dedgasted sphere; the peelers run me out of town whenever I appear. Because I am opposed to work on principle, I'm slugged; why should a conscientious shirk be chivled round and jugged?" The man who dallies with the booze with gramblings fills the street because he has no overshoes when snow is three feet deep. The man who loafs the hours away beneath the summer skies is sore because he must est hay when others have their pies. And